

Searching

Searching for answers
nowhere to be found.
You know it doesn't hurt sometimes
to stop and look around.

For those answers that we search seem difficult to find.
But oftentimes those answers
lie way down deep inside.

In our hearts and in our minds
where the questions first arose.
The seeds of doubt were planted complicating life's winding road.

So why keep on searching think back to where it all began.
Then you'll come to the realization that the answers were at hand.

Composition By: FRANK ANTONICELLI

©1989 Be Still Publishing LLC

For non-commercial use only